- Obtain data on youth eating habits

STORY BEHIND BASELINE:
- Currently there are not enough safe places to walk in our communities. We have extreme weather conditions make outdoor exercise difficult much of the year.
- There are high levels of poverty in Big Horn County which prohibit some community members from purchasing healthy foods and affording exercise equipment. Although these issues are not solely due to income.
- School curriculums are not focused on life-skills such as healthy eating and there is a lack of vocation classes that offer instruction for preparing fresh fruits and vegetables.
- Some families make poor lifestyle choices.
- Change in USDA regulations.
- Our community, like many, has a sedentary lifestyle greatly influenced by technology. We are transitioning from an agriculture economy to service economy. Many occupations are sit down jobs.
- Healthy foods are expensive and time-consuming to prepare.
- There is a lack of families that participation in free local nutrition programs such as Cent$ible Nutrition.
- Our community has many single parent homes and some have limited parenting-skills. Some parents/adults do not know how to cook.
- We believe there needs to be personal/family ownership of self/children.
- There is a lack of recreation activities in winter for 2 – 5 year olds.
- Elementary Schools Physical Education time has been reduced.
- In many families both parents are both work and the children are involved in many activities causing perceived time constraints to shop and cook healthy meals.
- Our service area consists of five separate communities.

WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO TO IMPROVE PERFORMANCE?
- Encourage physical activity in our communities, starting with families and young children
- Provide education on shopping for and preparing quick, inexpensive, easy healthy meals
